

GOADBY MARWOOD.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.—A very impressive service was held on Sunday week in the church of St. Denys, in memory of Private William Henry Pizer, who, after being twice previously seriously wounded, was killed in action on August 17th, "somewhere in France," at the early age of 22 years. There was a large congregation, testifying to the affectionate regard in which this gallant lad was held by his many friends and the sympathy felt for the family in their heavy bereavement. The rector preached an earnest sermon, making touching reference to the high character of the deceased and to the extent of the sacrifice which he like so many more of the pick and flower of our young men had been called upon to make. Though they were persuaded that his was now a higher service still and while they thanked God for such an example it was but human that they should lament their personal loss. After the blessing had been pronounced the organist, Miss Waite, played the Dead March in "Saul," all present reverently standing.